The Six Figure Mentors & Digital Experts Academy 7 Part Video Training Series Transcript - Day 7

Stuart Ross: Hello, this is Stuart Ross. I'm here with Jay Kubassek and we're the co-founders of Digital Experts Academy along with good friends, Guy Ferdman and Ilan Ferdman. We're known as the Digital Experts and we're here right now in London.

We've just had a phenomenal event here over the last five days and what we wanted to do while we're in this mode of, quite honestly, feeling like we've just delivered some pretty amazing information.

We wanted to shoot a video to really talk to you about what it is that we're all about and why we do what we do.

In fact, we want this video to serve as somewhat of a pattern interrupt in your life where you may come away from this video thinking about a whole different way of thinking, having a whole way different of thinking and that's what we're here for, that's our purpose, our passion.

One of the things that we always notice whenever we hold events like this is that the reason that so many people seek us out is because they recognise that we've figured out some new skill sets and new mindsets that enable individuals in this new digital economy to really claim back their life and really be in a position of where they have control and self-sufficiency, not relying on a boss, not having to commute to a job or run a traditional business that maybe they're not really that passionate about.

I think if there's one thing I can say that we're all extremely synchronised on is this burning desire to really reach out to millions of people and really start to wake them up to what is possible in this new digital economy.

So, on that note, I'm going to hand you over to Jay who'll tell you a little bit more about why we do what we do.

Jay Kubassek: Absolutely. Stuart just said millions of people right now, we feel, are living a life that they think they have to live and in some cases, you can almost say that they're living their life in a box or in a box of circumstances in a paradigm where maybe they got the education that they thought they needed to get the job that they thought they would want so that they could ultimately have the life that either they thought they wanted or somebody told them that they wanted.

It's likely no different than these millions of people. I remember being a kid and people ask me, "What do you want to be when you grow up?" Quite honestly, I could never really answer that question. Part of me just never wanted to commit to a 'what', to a career, to being something like a fireman or a farmer or a computer programmer or a banker and none of those things really appealed to me and really. I think, if we were to sum it up what we're doing here, is giving people a way to become the best version of themselves without having to pick one of those boxes necessarily.

Really, it's about who you want to be become because the internet now, I mean let's face it, has given just a tremendous opportunity to really anyone who acquires these new skills that Stuart so eloquently described or mentioned.

So, what we'd like to do is really share this drive that we have, this mission which is really reinforced by the results that our members are getting.

At the end of the day, we all know there are two economies and we all know that if you keep doing things the same way you're doing them, you can expect the same outcome.

For us, again, it's really about helping people become the best possible version of themselves and we're really fortunate to have our good friends and two of our experts from the academy here with us, Guy and Ilan Ferdman.

Stuart Ross: Just what I want to say before I hand over to probably you, Ilan, is that for me and for Jay, I suppose it was a little bit longer ago since we cracked this code of being self-sufficient online. You guys have been here for two and a half years now where these guys have been in the position much like ours and many of our students now where as long as we have one of these, a laptop and internet connection, sometimes you need a socket to power it, but as long as we've got our laptops and an internet connection, we're in business.

I think that it's fair to say that we probably take it for granted now because, in life, sometimes you do take things for granted when you get used to something. But Ilan, I want you to just frame this conversation in a position where, when you finally broke the code, and were in that position along with Guy to live that kind of lifestyle, what did that mean to you, your family, your lifestyle? One of the things I really want to focus on here is quality of life. Talk about that.

Ilan Ferdman: Sure. Well, I'm a father of two. Pretty recent, I guess, so I have a two year old and a seven month old. When my previous job had absolutely collapsed, I lost a previous business that I spent about eight years building.

The greatest thing about that lifestyle with having the computer and being able to do what you want, when you want.

Guy always mentions not having to wake up to an alarm clock is feeling like retired, but being able to, this is going to sound so cliché, but being to walk out of my office and play with my kid, being able to just feed him or see him smile or play with him for five minutes, it doesn't have to be all day, is such a profound gift.

What will you do with your Digital Lifestyle? Apply now to get started.

We always talk about like, even if I made, and obviously we're doing well, but even if I made $60,000 in a traditional job or $60,000 or let's say a $100,000 in a traditional job with a boss, with an alarm clock, with the 9:00 to 5:00 ... I guess in the US, it's more like 8:00 to 7:00 now.

Guy Ferdman: Plus, commute.

Ilan Ferdman: Plus, commute. So, if I made even $60,000 but had that ability to be at home with my kids on my own terms, like right here, we've been here out with you guys for almost a week, our business is up and running, like we're making money. We're out there training which is amazing but that thing is always out there running for us and that's an unbelievable gift.

I think that people don't understand that's available. They think they need to do like this and spend X hundreds of thousands of dollars to have a business of their own and it's not, like with the internet, it's become so accessible to you today.

Stuart Ross: I mean, the thing I love about experiencing like five days of training that we're doing now with such a diverse range of people. I mean, we've got GPs in there, we've got lawyers in there, we've got stay-at-home moms in there, we've got younger people, we've got older people, a lot of people in that room today are what we would class as sort of in the baby boomer era, never really had this opportunity that we have up until maybe the last decade or so.

The thing I just love about what we do is the fact that even with all that diversity, even with people with very different skill sets and very different mindsets, each person that we come in contact with really that what seems to drive them is not just quality of life for themselves but what it can do for their families.

I think that when we and as we know that we can provide this whole new education, this whole new way of thinking which we will get on to more detail in other videos but knowing that we can provide people that opportunity to live a completely different life.

Because I know from my perspective, after being in a real estate agency, I was at a job that wasn't my firm for eight years and not having a formal education or certainly a higher level of education.

For me, I was of the mindset that, this is all I know, I don't have any other options.

I had a good income, I was working 70 hours a week, that was one of the driving factors for me looking for something else in the first place, I had no spare time.

What will you do with your Digital Lifestyle? Apply now to get started.

The Six Figure Mentors & Digital Experts Academy

7 Part Video Training Series Transcript - Day 7

I remember vividly just thinking that I have no other choice, I have no other option and that's why I really wanted to shoot this video is because I want to really wake people up to the fact that you know what? In this new digital economy and by going through these videos that we're going to be sharing with you, you absolutely have options.

I don't care whether you've got a higher level of education earning three quarters of a million a year or whether you're somebody who has never really made a lot of money, if you're somebody who's hardworking and you're prepared to learn new skills, I think arguably we can say it's never been as simple as it is and there's never been so much opportunity.

Guy Ferdman: This thing you have in your pocket every single day has more technology in it today than the spaceship that made it to the moon in the '60s.

So what you need to start thinking about is that there are tools and resources out there that you may not be aware of that provide you with a playground to take whatever it is that you're passionate about, whatever it is that you love, whatever mission you feel is inside of you that's incomplete and bring that to the world, bring value to the world and turn that into a business opportunity, whatever it is that your vision is, you can bring it now to life.

So, what I want to let you know is that you already have everything that you need.

There's actually not much we can teach you but what we can give you access to is distinctions that you will recognise immediately from your own life experience that will unlock some possibilities that are not possible for you right now in the way that the world is framed to you because the world has been introduced to you, as here's a career path, and inside this career path, there are two walls and it's a very linear process to walk towards what might look like success in that career path, right?

We were Bankers for a very long time. There was really only one way to grow in that career path.

This is a very different type of experience.

You walk into it and you immediately have this experience of expansion where you almost feel like you can really go anywhere with it.

So, our mission and our goal is to provide you with the experience so that mind, body and soul are being taken care of.

There's a holistic view to what we do, and maybe that sounds a little bit hokey to you but, there are people, from our experience in the last five days, who mentioned they would prefer to come to an event like this, spend time in a community like this, versus even going on vacation.

I wanted to look at the reasons when you're in a traditional career, why do you go on vacation?

Because you feel like you need to hit the reset button.

You feel like you need to take care of your body and your mind and your spirit and you go there because your energy is so low that the only way you could see yourself gaining some energy is by going and sitting on the beach or something like that and then you get home and what's the first thing you feel like?

I need a vacation from my vacation, right?

You still didn't get back relaxed and chill. What we see time and time again is people come into this experience, come and join us at Digital Experts Academy and that just stops, that process is gone.

Now, they're whole life is about growing the energy, expanding their knowledge-base, living in communities that make a difference which inspire them and give them passion for what they're doing and that's just a completely different way of living.

My personal opinion is, your only job and why you're going through this set of boot camps is to sit there and ask yourself this question and ultimately just make a decision whether it's yes or no, do I want this lifestyle? Do I want to increase my quality of life?

Think about yourself right now - what would it take to increase your quality of life?

You probably have to give up more time than you're giving up just to earn that extra buck or whatever it might be, you still are at the whim of your boss most likely and most likely, you're helping someone else build a vision.

You have an opportunity to come here and to completely empower yourself in a totally new way.

Stuart Ross: Okay, so I'll tell you where I want to take this now is, let's talk about the most fundamental, basic, specific skill set when it comes to transitioning, I suppose, or moving from what you know now in the traditional economy into this new digital economy and Jay, I want you to talk about affiliate marketing specifically and let's use Amazon as an example to really explain what this first skill set is that really is the one to master.

7 Part Video Training Series Transcript - Day 7

Jay Kubassek: So, if you think back to the '80s when electronics were really coming online, and then e-mail was invented, and then the internet in the mid-'90s became mainstream, and then towards the late '90s, e-commerce became common. I remember back when I first heard you could buy something on the internet, it seemed like it wasn't that long ago.

Stuart Ross: It was a novelty as well.

Jay Kubassek: Yeah, it was a real novelty. Then there was all this conversation around security and can I trust the internet and all of that debate.

I remember back in the late '90s, early 2000s – the debate about will online buying like ecommerce ever take off?

Will people ever become comfortable with that?

I distinctly remember that conversation happening. Well, that was 20+ years ago and since then, if we look back to that time, that was the beginning of what's called now, the digital economy.

It seems you can't even open a publication of any sort, or watch the news, without a mention of this digital economy.

What the digital economy essentially is, is this new economy that arose out of these inventions, computerisation and commerce becoming digitised.

Well, over the last number of years, 20 or so years, the ability to buy online, and the habit of buying online has increased in leaps and bounds and it's increasing every single year. If you look at a graph, you look at the chart, there's a huge percentage of buying online, of consumer purchases that now happen online which used to happen before in a storefront.

You mentioned Amazon and Amazon is a great example of this because not too long ago, Amazon was a place where you went to buy books. It was a place for you to buy your next favourite book. But now, Amazon really is the new marketplace.

This is just one example. I say this sometimes in my training: Amazon are ultimately eating Walmart's lunch or they will eat Walmart's lunch. You know Walmart pretty much sells, at least in the US, they sell most products like consumable household products, they're into groceries and all that.

There's one product though they just took off their shelves - the Amazon Kindle! The reason they took this product off their shelves is because the Amazon Kindle is an Amazon product. Amazon only has one product that's their own and that is the Kindle. So, in my opinion, it's a really feeble attempt by Walmart to get back at Amazon, but Amazon is drop shipping billions and billions and billions of dollars worth of consumable products, household products. They own Diapers.com, they own Soap.com, they own a whole suite of other companies. They own IMDB.com.

What will you do with your Digital Lifestyle? Apply now to get started.

The Six Figure Mentors & Digital Experts Academy

They're everywhere and all they are is an online marketplace.

Well in this online marketplace, and again, we're just using Amazon as one example, but this really applies to almost any retailer that sells online.

These online marketplaces rely on independent affiliates. Stuart used the word affiliate and affiliate marketing. They rely on independent affiliates to bring customers through their front door, so think about it as a huge virtual warehouse, kind of like this massive Costco or this massive Walmart.

Stuart Ross: Or Asda or Tesco for our UK people.

Jay Kubassek: Sure. That has Amazon on the front of the building.

There are those warehouses Amazon has built all around the world where they ship these products to the end user.

When a customer buys something from one of the Amazon sites they really have no idea who they're buying from. Do a product search on Amazon, and pretty much any product you see online featured by Amazon, is either a merchant who's just using Amazon as the virtual storefront, or it's an individual seller or a combination.

Most Amazon products are sold when the consumer or buyer is looking to purchase a product so they search for it online - and the ad they click on, or the website the banner is on that they click, whatever it is that they clicked on, chances are it was placed there by an independent sales affiliate or an online affiliate - which is this concept of affiliate marketing we're talking about.

If you just want to see how this works for yourself, go to Amazon.com right now and scroll to the bottom of the website and you'll see where it says become a reseller or become an affiliate/associate of Amazon.

Becoming a reseller basically means you've got products you want to sell online and you can use the Amazon storefront essentially as your online merchant to be able to deliver these products. When somebody buys a product from your Amazon storefront, Amazon will ship that product on your behalf.

By signing up as a reseller means you're signing up to their affiliate program as well, which means all those independent sales affiliates are using the internet to connect buyers and sellers AND they can also sell your products and services too.

What will you do with your Digital Lifestyle? Apply now to get started.

The Six Figure Mentors & Digital Experts Academy

7 Part Video Training Series Transcript - Day 7

If you go there and I encourage you to do that, you can read some of the success stories and watch some of the videos of people who've built businesses and had success building businesses.

Before there were traditional brick and mortar businesses, but now they're able to sell online and have the entire world as their marketplace. That's only possible with these two ingredients: the online merchant or the marketplace which is Amazon in this case, and the merchants or the affiliate who brought the customer to that store.

Amazon's affiliate program pays 10%, so, if you connect buyers and sellers and there's $1,000 of transactions that take place, there's a $100 commission paid to you as an affiliate. That's really where I got my start in online marketing, that's where Stuart got his start, that's where you guys got your start.

That ultimately, in a nutshell, is what affiliate marketing is, but what we've done is we've taken that skill of connecting buyers and sellers online and used that as the starting point and have created an entire curriculum around that. An entire product suite that teaches all these skills in a holistic way and provides all the resources, and all the training in one place.

The reason we created this is because an Academy that teaches this doesn't exist, didn't exist and we know it didn't exist because we had to teach ourselves and most of our students.

A lot of our students had to teach themselves this skill because there's nowhere to learn it and there's a lot of misinformation, there's a lot of misguidance, there's a lot of hype, there's a lot of stuff out there that just isn't factual or it's simply outdated.

So, we saw this need and this want of people, and saw the opportunity also to help thousands of people change the quality of their life by getting into this mix, getting involved in this new digital economy.

Ilan Ferdman: And it's still a very young industry. Chances are, this is the first time you're hearing about affiliate marketing. There aren't that many people who know affiliate marketing exists. You're talking about 10% commissions, I mean, we show you how to get products and get 50%, 70%, 80% commissions and really make some life changing income.

Stuart Ross: I mean, yeah, we've got students in the room - I was going to say next door but they've just gone to the bar. They've had an intense three days so they're ready to celebrate these new skill sets but the point is ...

Jay Kubassek: We should mention as well that you'll see some of the success stories, and some of them sharing, on some of the videos. If you continue to go through the boot camp, you'll see exactly some of the changed lives so to speak.

What will you do with your Digital Lifestyle? Apply now to get started.

The Six Figure Mentors & Digital Experts Academy 7 Part Video Training Series Transcript - Day 7

Stuart Ross: Yeah, we've got students who've gone to the bar who've been earning up to US$8,000 per sale. Forget even percentages, I mean, it doesn't really matter if it's 10% or a 100%, when you're talking about US$8,000 a sale, that's kind of a skillset most people would like to learn.

The thing that's enabled us to be as successful as we've been today, and continue to be more successful of taking people from where they are to where they want to be with these new online skill sets, is the fact we're fortunate that tools and technology are being simplified.

The way you made money online, even five years ago is significantly different today. It was significantly harder back then, from a perspective that a lot of the tools and technology meant you needed to be technical. You needed to have a fairly natural talent when it came to working on a computer.

The reason we're doing videos like this and the reason we hold events like we are here, is because we've proven we can take pretty much someone who's barely even used their laptop or computer, maybe sent a few e-mails online and show them, through a proven curriculum, how they can go from there to where they want to be with these new skill sets and new mindsets.

So, what Digital Experts Academy is going to do for you is, it's going to give you the opportunity to play as big a game as you want to play. What we've done that's incredibly different than to anything else out there is, not just create a curriculum, but create a community of individuals who're going to support you regardless of your age, regardless of your background, regardless of your experiences, to achieve your own personal or online goals.

Some people who are here now, have gone to replace their income of maybe US$60,000, US$40,000, or US$100,000 a year.

There are other individuals in there who're already well on their way to have their first quarter of a million year, and we have other students, not so much who are here at this event, who are now starting to work towards having their very first seven figure business.

What I love about this industry is, you can re-write your own pay check and you can play as big as you want to play. But the one thing we're so unbelievably passionate about, is giving people this opportunity to have a whole new way of life, a lifestyle where you can have some balance, a lifestyle where you can get the exercise, and you can work from anywhere in the world, you can write your own schedule or timetable.

For some of us, that might be working in the evenings. For others, it might be working normal hours. For some, it might be just mornings.

What will you do with your Digital Lifestyle? Apply now to get started.

The Six Figure Mentors & Digital Experts Academy

7 Part Video Training Series Transcript - Day 7

I think that's what really makes such a profound difference to people's lives.

It's not so much people wake up and think, "I want to make money online."

A lot of people, as long as they're making money doing something they love and enjoy, which unfortunately for most people isn't the case, they're happy. It's one of those things, when you really wake up to the fact you've got another option - which often people don't even consider what's out there.

Ilan, before we wrap this video up, as a product of the product, in other words, as somebody who started with zero experience along with Guy, and are now in a position where you're able to provide this lifestyle for your family: what advice would you give somebody who's sat there thinking, "Can I really do this? Is this something I can achieve? It sounds amazing, possibly even too good to be true." What advice would you give someone who sat behind the other side of the screen and thinking, "I don't really think I could do this. This seems like a bit 'wow'."

Ilan Ferdman: Yeah. Well, I want to answer that in two parts.

First, as you were talking, I realised was I was a really good businessman when I started. At least, I thought I was and I built a business over eight years. We had a hundred million dollars in assets under management. But when I lost my own company, I went out into the job market because I thought, "Hey listen, I have so much experience. I should be able to get easily a job that pays me multiple six figures." And that went on for almost a year.

I couldn't find anything.

For me, what was eye opening. I was like, "Holy crap, the world has changed. I have great skills and I still can't find anything."

What was really important for me is when I re-invented myself to find something that, when I mastered this one skill, I will never have to master anything else because no matter what happens in the world, I got to write my own pay check. I knew that if I mastered this whole marketing thing, I can market anything. I thought 'the one thing any business needs is bringing more business to them so if I learn marketing, If I learn how to can do that, I won't ever be held ransom to recessions again. I'm not technical, my brother would attest, he calls me (this isn't PC) but technically retarded. Other than writing e-mails and scheduling stuff on my calendar, that's all I knew when I started.

I love what you said you don't really need to know the technical stuff because with a few very smart strategies we've been able to incorporate really well, and clearly different people with different education levels and business know how and age groups and all that stuff, have all been able to master them too, so it's not that hard.

What will you do with your Digital Lifestyle? Apply now to get started.

Learning these basic few things, with us showing you the tools and resources we use, and how to outsource things, you can build a very, very good business. Then keep growing it, and create additional cash flow and income streams that, even if you don't want to leave your current job, I think 'who wouldn't love an extra $1,000 or $2,000 a month in their pocket?'

From my experience, that's how we started and we just fell in love with it, so thought "Why would we do anything else? It really is not that hard!"

Stuart Ross: Guy, from a perspective of somebody at home, Ilan's obviously like us, very confident that anybody who is serious about this can achieve it.

What attributes would you say are most important to an individual who wants to learn this whole new way of creating a lifestyle?

Guy Ferdman: That's a great question. I think it's very simple. You don't have to have necessarily any certain type of skill set. I think him and I have been involved, I think everyone around this table at some point, has been involved heavily in personal development, we've coached people through things and what I've always seen as a common factor, whether it's personal or business development, is just the willingness to be coachable. It's just to be open enough to say, "You know what? I trust you enough and you're experienced enough that I'm willing to say you do this and then just give that a try."

Now, your experience may not be identical to ours, or to Jay's, or to Stu's, in terms of what you'll experience by doing that, but you'll uncover what you need to uncover and as long as you use the guidance we provide, that our community provides for you, you're going to step into something you've never seen before.

I totally get it, you're probably sitting there and you're going, "I've heard this before. Making more money, a new career, whatever." We don't consider this a career but it's fine.

If you're sceptical, go and do as much research as you want of this company and you'll see we provide exactly what we're talking about, you can take our word for it. I mean, you're sitting there with your own thoughts, and that's fine, and I totally understand that. You may have even heard something that sounded like this before, but I know what's behind everything we're saying is a mission that's far surpassed beyond just you earning more money. It's about you finding who you are. It's about you getting back in touch with what makes you human, which is finding purpose and having passion for living every single day, and for me, that's even more important than the money.

What will you do with your Digital Lifestyle? Apply now to get started.

The Six Figure Mentors & Digital Experts Academy

As Ilan said, you might make a $100,000 at your 9:00 to 5:00 or your 8:00 to 7:00, but you may want to make more money or you may want to increase your quality of life. Again, think about what that would take. Here, it's a very, very different picture. You have to understand we have a very different view of how things operate in the world.

Even if you decide to put one foot in and keep one foot out, just stare through our eyes for a minute and that's what we're inviting you to do, come stare through our eyes at what the world looks like. When you're willing to take this opportunity, and are willing to be coachable - that's a common factor in that room, the people are coachable and because they're coachable, they're getting results every day.

So, you can walk into ANY opportunity, and if you're not willing to listen to the people who've done it before you so they can impart some of that experiences to you, chances are you're not going to enjoy the experience. You're going to hit your head against the wall a lot, you're going to experience a lot of failure, and unless you know powerfully how to move through those things, you won't.

We provide here a foundational experience and foundational learning that allows you to have a particular experience so you get to know yourself as who we truly believe you are, your authentic self. I believe that's one of the greatest gifts you can give somebody is to let that out. People who are successful here are people who are willing to be themselves and we want that for you, we want that for everybody in the world.

Stuart Ross: What we have for you next is a series of other videos you can go through in your own time.

The other thing I want to mention is you're going to notice we do things a little bit differently to most people online as we have an application process. The reason we have an application process is to protect the integrity of our community. Unfortunately, this is an industry when it comes to learning the skills of making money online that really has been tarnished with some sort of a bad brush, a lot of hype a lot of false promises, exaggerations, even outright scams and lies. So, to protect the integrity of our community, it's very important for us that we speak to you. We get on the phone with you and really find out from you what it is you're wanting to achieve, and really give you some honest feedback as to whether we may or may not be a good fit for you.

Now, the result of you taking that application process is really two things.

What will you do with your Digital Lifestyle? Apply now to get started.

7 Part Video Training Series Transcript - Day 7

[1] First of all, you're going to get the opportunity to reach out to us and say, "Hey, I'm really interested. I'm somebody who has a lot of purpose and a lot of passion. I want to have change in my life. I'm prepared to do whatever it takes to do that within a certain degree, and you guys sound like you may be able to help."

[2] The second thing is, it's going to immediately give you access to some complimentary training. The reason we want to give you some complimentary training is because we want to give you a bit more about how this will work, what it is you'd be doing, and what business model you need in order to really start to get momentum online. This is something you're going to get immediate access to.

What I'm going to recommend that you do is go through these trainings, go through the videos even before you submit the application, and really get very clear on thinking about what maybe this could do for you, how different would your life be?

Ask yourself a question, "how different would your life be if you could all of a sudden replace your income and earn income on your own terms from anywhere in the world as long as you have a laptop and an internet connection?"

What would that do for you, your family and then start to think about the fact you can then scale those new mindsets, scale those new skillsets, to really write your own pay check, however ambitious that might be.

What I want to do is make sure when we get on the phone with you you're really clear about what it is that you're trying to achieve, so we can give you honest feedback.

Maybe you're too ambitious and we're going to tell you that, "You know what? It may be possible but the chances are you're not going to do a million in your first six months." It maybe you're in a position where you're just looking to really top up your income, maybe you want to retire your wife from a job she hates or your husband from a job he hates, maybe you just want more time with your children. Do us a favour and be really clear on the end result you're looking for. Then what we can do is start to set the expectation, we can start to really share with you the amount of time you're going to need invest and the options you have.

We have a product line that ranges from pretty much, $20 with a complimentary training, right the way up to $20,000, and there's all different programs, all different trainings depending on what you're looking for.

The Six Figure Mentors & Digital Experts Academy

7 Part Video Training Series Transcript - Day 7

We've got people here with us now who have flown in from, literally, all over the world. The US, Australia, all around Europe, obviously, people in the UK and this is what makes us get out of bed. It's knowing we have the opportunity to really wake people up and start to take control in their lives.

If this all sounds good, I want to encourage you to go through all the videos, and check out of our testimonials. Look in the eyes of the people speaking to the camera - you're going to see this is very, very real if you want it to be.

I'm going to sign out. Thank you very much for coming through to watch this video. I look forward to us, hopefully, being on the phone with you very, very soon. Jay, I don't know if you've got any finishing words?

Jay Kubassek: No, that's it. I think the final word I would say is: don't wait until you're forced to. A lot of our members wait or have waited until they're either underemployed, or God forbid, unemployed or their business has been made redundant or made irrelevant in the marketplace and they're forced out of necessity to reinvent themselves. If you're in that place, by all means, submit your application, and let's get started on recreating your financial stability right now. But if you're not in that place yet, then count that as a blessing, because it's much easier to reinvent yourself before you're forced to, before you've painted yourself in a corner where you have no other options.

You can't deny the digital economy is exploding, you can't deny there's an economy out there that's booming, and if you can get involved in it, and you can start to get your piece of it, the sooner, the better, so don't wait.

I would suggest you submit your application. It's risk free - it's a 100% risk free. If for any reason you decide this isn't for you, for any reason your application isn't accepted, you'll get a full refund so there's zero risk. In fact, we're taking all the risk.

On that note, I would encourage you to submit your application, to take a close look at what we have, and go from there and decide that's right for you.

With that, I look forward to seeing you on the rest of the videos and look forward to your success with our community here as well. Cheers.
